The Robert Keenan Winery has been dedicated to the production of top quality wines since its establishment in 1977. Keenan is known for producing small lots of wine full of luscious fruit character.

Over two decades ago this small one acre block of Merlot was planted at 1700ft beside our Mailbox Vineyard and by mere chance 12 vines of Muscat were mistakenly planted amongst the Merlot as well. Hidden away, ignored, and left to their own devices, the Muscat waited until finally in 2017 it came time to harvest this small block one last time. This harvest however was different. Harvested all on the same morning and co-fermented together, this one-time only creation of Merlot and Muscat is the last call of a vineyard that no longer exists. Cheers!
